

1 Read the text about Holi. Then, complete the sentences with the correct word in bold from the text.

HOLI

Holi – or the Festival of Colours - is a Hindu festival from India. It's a lot of fun! It's in spring and it happens when there is a full moon. People have bonfires and they sing and dance to traditional music. The next day, they play Holi. This is the fun part! They throw coloured powder (gula) at each other. They also throw water balloons and spray coloured water. Everyone gets gula and water on their clothes, on their skin and in their hair, but they don't mind. It's a great day!

Do you want to celebrate Holi, too? It's really easy to make your own gula and coloured water. Read on to find out how!

Gula

Dry coloured leaves or flowers and make them into powder.

Coloured water

Boil some water with coloured flowers, fruit or vegetables in it. Easy!

1 People throw _____ (gula).

2 You can make your own gula from _____ or flowers.

3 People have _____.

4 You can make coloured water with flowers, _____ or vegetables.

5 Holi starts when there is a _____.

6 People also throw _____.

2 ICT In groups, find information on how to make blue, green, yellow, red or brown powder or water. Tell the class. Say what you need and the steps to follow.