EXOTIC SHOPPING IN PARIS

1 Paris, the capital of France, is a shopper's paradise, with plenty of large department stores as well as thousands of delightful smaller shops.

2 Antique lovers can find fantastic furniture in the small antique shops on Bonaparte and Jacob Streets, and collectors can find rare books on the bookstalls lining the banks of the River Seine. There are also some great department stores which sell everything from perfume to furniture. Galleries Lafayette, Paris' largest department store on Boulevard Haussmann, offers a great variety of high quality woollen skirts, leather jackets and designer clothes. The Marais is a group of little streets with some of the trendiest boutiques. There you can buy fashionable clothes, shoes and jewellery. For shoppers with big bank accounts, there is a wide range of jewellers' and designer fashion houses along the Rue de Rivoli, such as Cartier, Chanel, Nina Ricci and Christian Dior.

3 Shops in Paris are usually open from eight or ten in the morning till about seven in the evening, from Monday to Saturday. The big sales come after Christmas and before the autumn collections.

• Grammar: Adjectives

Order of Adjectives

- Adjectives describe nouns. They have the same form in the singular and plural. e.g. a blue dress - two blue dresses
- There are two types of adjectives.

Opinion adjectives beautiful, great, expensive, etc describe what we think of someone or something.

Fact adjectives short, long, red, etc describe what someone or something really is.

Opinion adjectives go before fact adjectives.

She's wearing a beautiful red dress.

- When there are two or more fact adjectives in a sentence, they usually go in the following order:

Fact Adjectives

- size: small, big, short, long, etc
- weight: heavy, light, etc
- shape: triangular, round, rectangular, square, etc
- colour: dark/light blue, yellow, pink, cream, red, purple, etc
- material: cotton, leather, silk, plastic, woollen, nylon, metal, gold, silver, velvet, wooden, canvas, etc

It's a beautiful, long, light blue, silk skirt.

11 Read the article in Ex. 6 and find three fact adjectives and three opinion adjectives.

15 GAME: Write short descriptions of objects. Read them aloud and let the class guess what objects you are describing.

B: What's it got in it?

A: My purse, some credit cards and my passport.

- 2 his son
- 3 the years
- 4 to a fire
- 5 personnel
- 6 the Halls
- 7 the and soul of
- 8 months

20 Correct the false statements, as in the example.

- 1 Harrods is in Paris. It isn't in Paris. It's in London.
- 2 In the beginning, Harrods was a big bakery.

"All Things, for All People, Everywhere"

a

"Enter a Different World", it says on the doormat, and this is what you do when you visit Harrods in Knightsbridge, London. Harrods is "the world's most celebrated store", says Chairman Mr Mohamed Al Fayed.

In the beginning, though, Harrods was just a small grocer's shop. It was opened in 1849 and run by Charles Henry Harrod. His son took over and added medicines and perfumes, as well as fruit, flowers, sweets and a van delivery service.

Over the years, Harrods has survived a fire, two World Wars and even two bombings. In 1983, Harrods moved abroad and opened a branch in Japan and later others in Hong Kong, Singapore and Taiwan, as well as airport shops in most major European cities.

Today, around 35,000 people visit Harrods every day. It has got 300 departments spread over seven floors and employs over 4,000 staff. It also has eight doormen, known as 'Green Men', as well as its own fire brigade, security personnel, doctors and nurses.

Harrods is the official supplier of certain goods to the Royal Family, and sells everything from clothes to caviar. The Food Halls are still the heart and soul of Harrods. In addition to the nineteen bars and restaurants in the store, there is a bank, a travel agent's, a dry cleaner's and the biggest hair and beauty salon in Europe.

January and July are very busy months for Harrods because they are sale times. Over 300,000 customers visit the store on the first day alone. Many people sleep outside the store all night to be first in when the doors open on the first day.

e

"All things, for all people, everywhere" is the store's motto. The Harrods name means the best of British quality, service and style. All in all, Harrods is a fascinating place to visit.

- 3 In 1983, Harrods opened a branch in Korea.
- 4 Harrods has got 3,000 departments.
- 5 There are nine bars and restaurants in the store.

• Speaking

- a) Take notes under the headings in Ex. 18a, then tell the class about Harrods.
- b) Tell the class about a big department store in your country.

- A: Do you take credit cards?
- B: I'm afraid not.
- A: That's okay. I'll pay cash, then.

b) Polite Requests and Offers

- Could I have the pills in this prescription, please?

In the first paragraph, we state the name of the city and the types of shops you can find there.

In the second paragraph, we state the names of the best shops, where they are and what we can buy there.

In the third paragraph, we state the opening hours and the sales times.

In the last paragraph, we recommend the place to shoppers.

We normally use the present simple in such articles. We give the article an interesting title to attract the reader's attention.

29  Listen and answer the questions.

- 1 Which city are the speakers in?
- 2 What shops can you find there?
- 3 What can you buy at these shops?
- 4 What are the opening hours?
- 5 When do the sales take place?
- 6 How does Lisa recommend the place to Alice?

- L: Ah, you've come to the right place, then! Boutiques, confectioner's, lace shops, antique shops, enormous department stores – you can shop till you drop, my dear.
- A: That's great! Where shall we go first?
- L: Well, the Sablon District is full of antique shops. You must visit Dewindt, on Lebeu-straat. It's got some lovely antiques.
- A: Oh, Lisa! Aren't you coming with me?
- L: I can't, I'm afraid, but I'll meet you at three, outside Inno Brussels on rue Neuve. It's Brussels' most famous department store, and you can buy everything from clothes to jewellery there.
- A: Ooh, that sounds exciting! And what about souvenirs? Brussels is famous for chocolate and lace, isn't it?
- L: Yes, it is, and Leonidas on Boterstraat has the most delicious pralines in the world. We can also go to F. Rubbrecht in the Grand-Place. We'll find the best lace there.
- A: Will we have enough time? The shops are open from nine to six, aren't they?
- L: That's right, but it's Friday today. Shops are open until 8:00 pm on Fridays. And there are sales every January and July, so ...
- A: The sales are on now? That's great! I can find some bargains!
- L: Of course you can. Didn't I tell you? Brussels really is the best place for shoppers!

Dear Tim,

Greetings from Mombassa! It's such an exotic place! We're staying at a fabulous hotel. The weather is hot and sticky here.

Yesterday, we went on a safari through Tsavo East National Park. We saw many wild animals there. While we were driving through in our jeep a huge rhino chased us! We've been swimming at Nyalí Beach almost every day and we've got great tans.

The food here is delicious. We've been eating mangoes and pineapples and we've even tried fish curry!

Love,
Barbara and John

Dear Tim,

I'm spending a week in Vienna. I've never seen such a beautiful city. I'm staying at a lovely guest-house in the town centre. Unfortunately, the weather is a bit cold and rainy.

I've seen some magnificent palaces since I came here. Yesterday morning I went to St Stephen's Cathedral. While I was taking pictures someone stole my bag. Luckily, I didn't have much money in it! In the evening I went to a concert of Strauss's music – all waltzes, of course! I've been eating a lot ever since I arrived. The food is excellent – especially the cakes. I think I've put on weight.

Bye for now,
Janet

Dear Tim,

Hi! I'm on holiday in Crete. I'm staying at a marvellous camp-site by the sea. The weather is warm and sunny.

I've seen the incredible Minoan Palace at the ancient city of Knossos. Last week I visited the Archaeological Museum. I have been exploring all the gorgeous sandy beaches in the area. Yesterday while I was scuba-diving, I found an amazing underwater cave.

I have been eating a lot of traditional food. I've even tried snails. Crete is a wonderful island. I'm having so much fun!

Love,
Bob

Writing

(a letter describing your stay at a holiday resort)

When writing a letter describing your stay at a holiday resort, you should talk about the place (where it is, what it is like, when you arrived there), accommodation (where you are staying), the weather, sights you have visited, activities you have been doing, the food, any good or bad experiences you have had and your impressions. Organise your thoughts in paragraphs and be careful to use the correct tenses.

16 Put the verbs in brackets into the correct tense. In which paragraph does Vicky talk about a) the weather? b) sights/activities? c) food/experiences?

The only bad thing was that while we 12) (enjoy) our dessert, it started raining. Fortunately it was just a shower! Well, I must go now - we're going to Toledo today.

Pacific Paradise Tour

The Pacific Paradise Tour took us to California, on the west coast of the United States, and to the Hawaiian islands in the Pacific Ocean. With beautiful countryside, exciting cities and fantastic beaches, this holiday had everything.

The first place we stopped at was San Francisco, in northern California. This city is famous for its cable cars — and it certainly needs them because San Francisco is extremely hilly and has some very steep roads! By the sea, next to the fishing boats, there are the fish restaurants. Here we enjoyed watching the street actors and musicians as we ate delicious fresh fish. One thing we'll never forget is the Golden Gate Bridge, which is very big and beautiful.

The next city on the tour was Los Angeles. This city is very exciting and has some very famous attractions. The nearby beaches are long and sandy and the mountains outside the city are high and dry. We visited the beach where they were filming Baywatch. We also went to Disneyland where we saw E.T. and shook hands with Mickey Mouse. After that they took us to Hollywood to see the houses of the stars who have made a lot of films — and a lot of money!

The last place we visited in California was San Diego, a city with sun, sand, sea and all kinds of watersports. We went to the San Diego Zoo which is one of the world's largest zoos. We also visited Mexico, which is only a short drive away from San Diego.

Finally, we went to Hawaii. It's paradise! We sat on golden beaches with green palm trees and watched amazing red sunsets. We also saw colourful fish at Sea Life Park and went snorkelling in Hanauma Bay. In the evenings we enjoyed the lively clubs, bars and ice-cream parlours. Best of all, we ate fantastic Hawaiian food while watching Hawaiian people performing traditional Polynesian dances.

This holiday was fantastic. So when you have time, get on the first plane to the west coast of The United States and have the time of your life!

Writing (a visit to a place)

When we write an article describing a visit to a place, we use past tenses to describe what we saw, what we did there, the weather and our impressions of the place. We use present tenses to say where the place is and what it is like. We can use our senses (sight, hearing, smell) to make the description more interesting.

19 Read this article from a school magazine and fill in each gap with an adjective ending in -ous, -ly, -ic, -y, -ful. Then say what each paragraph is about.

Enjoy Reading

Lead-in

- 1 Look at the pictures. How do you think the people feel in each of these situations? What do you think is happening? Can you guess what they are saying or thinking?

Reading

- 2  Look at the words under each picture. Which might appear in the stories based on the pictures? Read or listen to the texts A - C and underline them.
- 3 Read the following beginnings of stories again and underline the sentences which best describe the pictures. Then try to explain the word/phrases in bold. Finally, answer the questions below.

A Frances Clark looked up from the flower she was studying on the soft jungle floor. She felt hot and sticky as it was the middle of the afternoon. Everything was strangely quiet. No animal sounds, no rustling of leaves. Suddenly she heard something hissing behind her head. Her eyes grew wide with terror as a huge python wound itself around her. "Help!" she screamed. "Someone help me!"

B "Oh no, I can't hold on!" Sammy shouted. He grabbed desperately for the branches of a tree as the freezing water of the river carried him towards the sea. Cold rain was pouring down while the thunder boomed, covering his shouts for help. The bright lightning made the night seem like day. Sammy was stiff from the cold.

C Jake and Bill were walking through the moonless forest. The snow was falling silently around them. It was about midnight and they were feeling tired. Suddenly Jake stopped. "There it is," he whispered to Bill. Slowly he raised his gun, aimed at the dark shape, then fired.

- 1 Where and when did each story take place?
- 2 What was the weather like in each story?
- 3 Who was involved in each story? How did these people feel? Why did they feel this way? What happened?
- 4 Underline the use of the senses in the beginnings above.

Follow-up

Read the beginnings again and match them to the titles: a) The Flood b) Horror in the Jungle c) The Monster
 Can you think of another title for each story?

Language Development

4 The use of various adjectives makes stories more interesting. Read the list of adjectives and match them to the nouns as in the examples. You may use some adjectives more than once.

a. moonlit, rough, calm, moonless, stormy, dark, sunny, clear, cloudless

- 1 cloudless, sky
- 2 moonlit, night
- 3 sunny, day
- 4 rough, sea

b. snowy, steep, pebbly, noisy, crowded, high, narrow, expensive, empty, sandy, tree-covered

- 1 noisy, street
- 2 crowded, restaurant
- 3 pebbly, beach
- 4 high, mountain

You can show a person's feelings by describing their behaviour. This makes a story more lively.

5 Look at the pictures and say how each person feels. Then match the adjectives in the list to the pictures. When do you feel like this?

scared, annoyed, sad, angry, miserable, terrified, glad, frightened, thrilled, pleased, depressed, furious, delighted e.g. I feel happy when I go on holiday.

6 Read the sentences and match them to the adjectives below.

embarrassed, nervous, frightened, happy, angry, surprised, bored, miserable

- 1 His knees were trembling; he thought he was going to faint. e.g. He was frightened.
- 2 Ann sat at her desk staring out of the window.
- 3 Everybody laughed at him and his face went very red.
- 4 His eyes and mouth were wide open, but he couldn't say anything.
- 5 Liz sat quietly in the corner with her head in her hands, sighing from time to time.
- 6 She started to shake as she went into the exam room.
- 7 The driver shook his fist and started shouting.
- 8 Tim's eyes were shining and he had a huge smile on his face.

Grammar in Use

PAST SIMPLE — PAST CONTINUOUS

7 Join the sentences below using when, while, and, so, or as/because as in the example.

e.g. The sun was shining and the birds were singing.

- | | |
|---|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1 The sun was shining. 2 Bill was watching TV. 3 I was having a bath. 4 I heard a noise in the garden. 5 He went to bed early last night. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a His wife was getting dressed. b He was very tired. c The birds were singing. d I went to see what it was. e My doorbell rang. |
|---|---|

8 Look at the sentences in Ex. 7. Which tenses are used for: a) actions which happened one after the other? b) a past action in progress interrupted by another past action? c) past actions of a certain duration which happened at the same time? d) an action which happened at a definite past time? e) giving a background description to events in a story?

9 Put the verbs in brackets into the correct tense. Justify the use of the Past Continuous.

- A Paula 1) (look) out of the window. 2) (be) dark and wet outside. Big raindrops 3) (run) down the glass. Then she 4) (see) them and 5) (gasp) in horror. Two thin, white creatures 6) (walk) towards the window. Her hands 7) (begin) to shake as she 8) (realise) that their eyes 9) (stare) right into hers.

- B It 1 (rain) heavily and the wind 2 (blow). Sam 3 (walk) back home. It 4 (be) very late and the streets 5 (be) empty. Suddenly, he 6 (hear) footsteps behind him. They 7 (get) closer and closer. Sam 8 (turn) round and 9 (see) a slim woman in a dirty raincoat walking towards him.
- C Peter 1 (work) in the garden. He 2 (dig) a deep hole when he 3 (find) an old silver box. When he 4 (open) it, he 5 (be) surprised to see an old map.

Avoiding Repetition

When there are two past continuous forms in the same sentence, you omit the auxiliary verb, the conjunction and the subject and use only the -ing participle.
 e.g. He was looking around and he was crying for his mother. He was looking around crying for his mother.

10 Now do the same with these sentences.

- 1 He was running fast and he was carrying a big box.
- 2 They were standing at the edge of the cliff and they were admiring the view.
- 3 Tim was watching TV and he was eating his supper.

11 What is direct speech? Find examples of it in the beginnings on p. 28 and underline them.

12 Fill in the gaps with words from the list. Then underline the direct speech in the paragraph.

crashing, sailing, enjoying, trying, blowing, sitting, making, talking, helping

It was a sunny afternoon. David and his friends were 1 along the coast, 2 the warm weather. A light breeze was 3 across the bay. They all felt relaxed. Rick and Tyler were 4 David sail the boat as the others were 5, 6 about their plans for the summer holidays. Suddenly, the wind started blowing strongly and the sea became rough. Waves began 7 against the boat, 8 everyone lose their balance. Dark clouds covered the sky. David was 9 to lower the sails when Rick cried, "Where's Tyler?" ...

Writing (setting the scene)

When we write a story we begin by setting the scene. In order to do this, we imagine that we are looking at a picture and we try to describe the place (where), the time (when), the weather, the people involved and their feelings. We can use our senses to make the description more lively. That is, we can describe what we see (e.g. a huge python), hear (e.g. hissing), feel (e.g. soft jungle floor) or smell (e.g. the scent of pine trees). We use direct speech (e.g. "Help!" she screamed), a variety of adjectives (e.g. horrified, stormy), adverbs (e.g. silently, strangely) and verbs (e.g. whispered, screamed) to make a story more interesting.

13 Put the verbs in brackets into Past Simple or Past Continuous, then answer the questions.

It 1 (be) a bitterly cold night. It 2 (rain) heavily. Sally 3 (walk) along the empty road and tears 4 (run) down her face. She 5 (reach) a street lamp and stopped there. She 6 (have) nowhere to go to, no one to stay with ... nothing! She was soaked to the skin but this 7 (not/seem) to bother her. Suddenly she 8 (feel) a gentle tap on her shoulder. Surprised, she 9 (turn) around. In the pale yellow light she 10 (see) a stranger. He 11 (wear) clothes as black as night, but his face 12 (be) kind and calm.

- a When and where did the story take place?
- b What was the weather like?
- c Who were the people involved and how did they feel?
- d Which sentences describe the senses?

Listening

14  Look at the picture and think of as many words as you can that relate to the scene. Then listen and answer these questions.

- What was the weather like?
- Where and when did this happen?
- Who was involved? How did they feel? Why?

15 Read the beginnings and endings and match them. How does the writer set the scene? How does he finish each story? Underline the direct speech in them.

Beginnings

1 Janet Black looked out of the window of the old building. It was dark and wet. Rain was coming down heavily. The streets were empty. No cars, no people ... nothing. Suddenly a flash of lightning tore across the sky. She shivered with fear. A huge spaceship was approaching the building. "They've found me," she gasped. "I can't get away now."

2 "I don't want to die!" David shouted. The wind was blowing against his sweaty face as he held onto the rocky cliff. He was tired. He didn't know how much longer he could keep himself from falling. He looked up at the clear morning sky. Suddenly, he heard the sound of a helicopter approaching him.

Endings

a David could hear the siren of an ambulance as the helicopter landed. People were waiting anxiously for them. A man opened the ambulance door. "Don't worry! Everything will be OK," the man told him. David looked up at his kind face and smiled weakly. He was exhausted, but he was alive.

b Professor Miller put his arms gently around her shoulders. She was still shaking with fear, but she felt safe. The flashing lights were gone, along with the strange faces, and the professor was holding her. She took his hand in hers. Then she noticed it: the same strange scar like the one the aliens had. "Oh no! This can't be true!" she cried.

16  The paragraph below sets the scene of a story. Read it and try to fill in the missing words. Then, listen and check your answers. Can you think of any other beginnings for the story?

Diane Brookes 1) at her wooden desk. It was about midnight and everything was 2) She felt 3) after all her hard work, but now the computer disc was ready. Suddenly she heard a 4) outside her office. Someone was trying to 5) in. Diane wasn't surprised. She knew they were coming for her. She looked at the door, then calmly asked, 6) "..... you?"

17  Think of a sentence for each picture using direct speech, then write a beginning for picture A and an ending for picture B using the words in the bubbles. Finally, listen and find out how similar your version is to the one on the tape.

James - paths - animals - zoo - empty - 2 o'clock - cold and wet - gorilla's cage - shocked - cuts - dirty fur - touch hand - help row the boat - river - sigh with relief - safe - it's OK - free

- b They were hunted until they were extinct because they attacked farm animals.
- c The climate changed and they couldn't live in the new conditions.
- d The weather became hotter and other kinds of plants started growing, so the animals they used to feed on died.

Extinct animals

- 1 Sabre-toothed cat
- 2 Tasmanian tiger
- 3 Dodo
- 4 Stegosaurus

Reading

- 3 a) Think of two questions you would like to ask about each animal. Read the texts and see if you can answer them.

A. The Sabre-toothed Cat

About 40 million years ago, a fierce hunter, called the sabre-toothed cat, lived on the earth. This animal was found everywhere, except in Australia and Antarctica. The best known sabre-toothed cat was the Smilodon. Its remains have been found in Los Angeles, California. The Smilodon probably lived on the grassy plains of North and South America.

These prehistoric cats were distant cousins of modern tigers but looked more like lions. Sabre-toothed cats had long sharp front teeth, which were probably used for stabbing their prey, and wide jaws. They were very heavy animals, which made them quite slow. Sabre-toothed cats had short, powerful legs, so they couldn't run very fast or very far. They probably hid and waited for prey to come by and then pounced.

Surprisingly, sabre-toothed cats often survived even after they had been badly wounded. How did they get enough to eat when they were unable to hunt? They probably lived in groups and ate leftovers from prey that the other cats had killed.

At the end of the last Ice Age – about 10,000 years ago – the climate slowly got warmer. Different kinds of plants began to grow, and forests became grassy plains. Scientists believe the cats' prey couldn't live in this new environment. As a result, sabre-toothed cats had nothing to eat and died out. Although these magnificent cats are extinct, scientists are still finding out lots of exciting things about them!

- b) Read the texts again and answer questions 1-6.

Write A, B, C, or D. Which animal(s):

- became extinct recently? 1
- was hunted for food? 2
- were found on many continents? 3 4
- only ate plants? 5 6

- c) Where could you see such pieces of writing? What is the writer trying to do with the texts?

B. The Tasmanian Tiger

The Tasmanian tiger only recently became extinct. Although it was a marsupial, it actually looked more like a dog. The Tasmanian tiger had a tail like a kangaroo and a marsupial pouch to carry its young.

Sometimes it would stand upright, resting on its tail just like a 5 kangaroo. This special animal was an orange colour and had between 13 and 19 brown stripes on its back. Tasmanian tigers lived around the east and north coast of Tasmania and preferred the plains to the mountains.

They hunted alone, usually eating small animals such as wallabies, birds and sometimes sheep. Farmers saw them as a threat to their flocks, so

10 they hunted them in large numbers. As a result, they became extinct. In 1929 the Tasmanian government declared the Tasmanian tiger a 15 protected species, but unfortunately it was too late. The last known Tasmanian tiger died in captivity in the Hobart Zoo in 1936.

C. The Dodo

The dodo was a large, flightless bird with short legs, a huge beak, stubby wings and a small feathered tail. It lived peacefully on the island of Mauritius for so long that it lost its need to fly. It nested on the ground and ate fruit that had fallen from trees. Dodos lived with lots of different birds in the dense forests.

10 In 1505, the Portuguese were the first humans to set foot on Mauritius. The island quickly became a stopover for ships in the spice trade. Sailors killed large numbers of dodos for food. Later, the Dutch brought other animals with them

15 that competed with the dodo for food. Within 100 years of the arrival of humans, the dodo had become a rare bird. The last one was killed in the 1680s.

D. Stegosaurus

Stegosaurus was a type of dinosaur which appeared about 150 million years ago during the Jurassic period. It lived in the tropical environments of North America, Western Europe, Asia and Africa. 5

Stegosaurus could grow up to 9m in length, and about 3m in height, and weighed about 3000 kg. It wasn't a very intelligent animal; its small brain was the size of a walnut! Its skull was long and narrow, and it had a toothless beak and small teeth farther back. With long, triangular plates sticking out of its back and tail, Stegosaurus looked something like a huge porcupine. These plates may have 10 been to control the dinosaur's temperature, as well as for protection. Stegosaurus also had long spikes at the end of its tail for protection from predators. This dinosaur was a herbivore, which means that it ate 20 only plants.

Towards the end of the Jurassic period, most of the enormous dinosaurs died out. One theory suggests that dinosaurs began to decrease in number because of the 25 major changes in the earth's weather and environment. Stegosaurus, like the other dinosaurs, couldn't cope with the changes and slowly began to die out.

Follow-up

Read the texts again and make notes under the headings (name - habitat - description - food). Then talk about one of the extinct animals.

dinosaurs disappeared 150/65 million years ago

Theories about why they disappeared:

Theory A: • a giant meteorite from space hit/broke the earth
 • huge dust clouds rose up and blocked the moon/sunlight
 • all plants died and dinosaurs starved or froze/burned to death

Theory B: • climate changed a lot/a little because the continents were moving around
 • summers got hotter/colder and winters got hotter/colder
 • dinosaurs had such big problems with these changes that they died

Theory C: • a poisonous plant/animal appeared which killed dinosaurs
 • as a result the meat-eating dinosaurs had no food, so they died

The Jungle Book by Rudyard Kipling

- 1 a) Read the author's biography. Where do you think Kipling got the inspiration to write The Jungle Book?

Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936) was born in Bombay, India and educated in England. His earliest years were happy ones, spent in an India full of exotic sights and sounds. This experience would later influence some of his writing. During his lifetime, Kipling published many short stories, poems and books. His most famous works include Kim (1901) and The Jungle Book (1894), which was followed by The Second Jungle Book in 1895. In 1907 he received the Nobel Prize in Literature for his originality and style.

In The Jungle Book, the boy, Mowgli, is brought up by wolves when a tiger kills his parents. Bagheera, the panther, and Baloo, the bear, teach Mowgli the 'laws' of the jungle.

At this point, Baloo is teaching Mowgli, about the jungle.

- b) Ask and answer questions, as in the example.

- A: When was Rudyard Kipling born?
 B: In 1865. Where was he born?
 C: In Bombay.
 etc

- 2  Identify the animals in the pictures. Listen to the extract and say which of these animals are mentioned in the story.

- 3 Read the extract from The Jungle Book. For questions 1-5 choose the best answer, A, B, C or D.

It was in the days when Baloo was teaching him the Law of the Jungle. The big, serious, old brown bear was delighted to have such a clever pupil because the young wolves will only learn as much of the Law of the Jungle which is necessary to their own pack and tribe, and run away as soon as they can

5 repeat the Hunting Verse: "Feet that make no noise; eyes that can see in the dark and sharp white teeth, all these things are the marks of our brothers, except Tabaqui the Jackal and the Hyena whom we hate." But Mowgli, as a man cub, had to learn a lot more than this. Sometimes Bagheera, the Black Panther, would come to see how his pet was getting on, and would purr with

10 his head against a tree while Mowgli recited the day's lesson to Baloo. The boy could climb almost as well as he could swim, and swim almost as well as he could run. So Baloo, the Teacher of the Law, taught him the Wood and Water Laws: how to speak politely to the wild bees when he found a hive of 15 them fifty feet above ground; what to say to Mang the Bat when he disturbed him in the branches at midday; how to warn the water-snakes in the pools before he splashed down among them. None of the Jungle People liked being disturbed, and they were all very ready to attack an intruder. Then, Mowgli was taught the Strangers' Hunting Call, which must be repeated aloud till it is answered, whenever one of the Jungle People hunts outside his own area.

20 It means, "Let me hunt here because I am hungry," and the answer is, "Hunt then for food, but not for pleasure."

All this will show you how much Mowgli had to learn by heart, and he grew very tired of saying the same thing over a hundred times. But, as Baloo said to Bagheera, one day when Mowgli had been slapped and run off in a temper, "A 25 man cub is a man cub, and he must learn all the Law of the Jungle."

"But think how small he is," said the Black Panther, who would have spoiled Mowgli if he had had his own way. "How can his little head carry all your long talk?"

"Is there anything in the Jungle too little to 30 be killed? No. That is why I teach him these things, and that is why I hit him, very softly, when he forgets."

“Softly! What do you know of softness, old Ironfeet?”
 35 Bagheera grunted. “His face is all bruised today by your softness. Ugh!”

“It is better he is bruised head to foot by me who loves
 40 him than he is harmed through ignorance,” Baloo answered. “I am now teaching him the Master Words of the Jungle that will protect him from the 45 birds and the Snake People, and all four footed animals, except his own pack. He is now protected if he only remembers the words. Is not that worth a little beating?”

“Well, look to it then that you do not
 50 kill the man cub. He is no tree trunk to sharpen your blunt claws upon. But what are those Master Words? I am more likely to give help than to ask it.” Bagheera stretched out one paw and admired the sharp claws at the end of it. “Still I should like to know.”

55 “I will call Mowgli and he’ll say them if he wants to. Come, Little Brother!”

“My head is ringing like a bee hive,” said a cross little voice over their heads, and Mowgli slid down a tree-trunk very angry and upset, adding as he reached the ground: “I come 60 for Bagheera and not for you, fat old Baloo!”

“It doesn’t matter to me,” said Baloo, though he was hurt and grieved. “Tell Bagheera, then, the Master Words of the Jungle that I have taught you today.”

- Who taught Mowgli the Hunting Verse?
 A the jackal B the hyena C the bear D the wolves
- Mowgli learned the Stranger’s Hunting Call
 A to hunt only for fun and games.
 B to hunt for food when he was away from his own home.
 C to find his way through the jungle.
 D to tell other animals that he was coming.

- Bagheera, the Black Panther, thought that Mowgli
 A was too spoiled to learn his lessons.
 B wasn’t smart enough to understand Baloo.
 C was too small to learn so many laws.
 D enjoyed the same lesson everyday.
- The Master Words of the Jungle will protect Mowgli from
 A all of the jungle animals. C all the dangerous snakes.
 B his own pack of wolves. D some birds and snakes.
- Why did Mowgli come down from the tree?
 A it was full of bees C to see Baloo
 B his head was hurting D to say his lesson

4 Now answer the questions below.

- What did Baloo, the bear, teach Mowgli?
- Why was Baloo happy with his student?
- What was Mowgli very good at?
- Why did Baloo teach Mowgli the Wood and Water Laws?
- Why was Bagheera upset?
- Where was Mowgli hiding?

Reading

You are going to read a newspaper article about a young person's career. For questions 1-6, choose the answer (A, B, C or D) which you think fits best according to the text.

Living by the Sword

When Cristina Sanchez told her parents that she wanted to become a bullfighter instead of a hairdresser, they weren't too pleased. But when she was eighteen her parents realised that she was serious and sent her to a bullfighting school in Madrid, where she trained with professionals.

Since last July, Sanchez has been the most successful novice in Spain and is very popular with the crowds. After brilliant performances in Latin America and Spain earlier this year, Sanchez has decided that she is ready to take the test to become a matador de toros. Out of the ring, Sanchez does not look like a matador. She is casually elegant, very feminine and wears her long blond hair loose. She seems to move much more like a dancer than an athlete, but in the ring she is all power.

When she was fourteen, Sanchez's father warned her that the world of bullfighting was hard enough for a man and even harder for a woman. It seems he is right. "It really is a tough world for a woman," says Sanchez. "You start with the door shut in your face. A man has to prove himself only once, whereas I have had to do it ten times just to get my foot in the door."

In perhaps the world's most masculine profession, it would seem strange if Sanchez had not met problems. But even though Spanish women won the legal right to fight bulls on equal terms with men in 1974, there are still matadors like Jesulin de Ubrique who refuse to fight in the same ring as her.

Sanchez lives with her family in Parla, south of Madrid. Her family is everything to her and is the main support in her life. "My sisters don't like bullfighting, they don't even watch it on TV, and my mother would be the happiest person in the world if I gave it up. But we get on well. Mum's like my best friend."

When Sanchez is not fighting she has a tough fitness routine — running, working out in the gym and practising with her father in the afternoon. By nine she is home for supper, and by eleven she is in bed. She doesn't drink, smoke or socialise. "You have to give up a lot," says Sanchez. "It's difficult to meet people, but it doesn't worry me — love does not arrive because you look for it." 37

Sanchez spends most of the year travelling: in summer to Spanish and French bullfights and in winter to Latin America. Her mother dislikes watching Sanchez fight, but goes to the ring when she can. If not, she waits at home next to the telephone. Her husband has had to ring three times to say that their daughter had been injured, twice lightly in the leg and once seriously in the stomach. After she has been wounded, the only thing Sanchez thinks about is how quickly she can get back to the ring. "It damages your confidence," she says "but it also makes you mature. It's just unprofessional to be injured. You cannot let it happen." Sanchez is managed by Simon Casas, who says, "At the moment there is no limit to where she can go. She has a champion's mentality, as well as courage and technique."

3 Sanchez's mother

- A is everything to the family.
- B prefers to watch her daughter on TV.
- C supports her more than the rest of her family.

6 What does Sanchez think about after being injured?

- When describing people your composition needs to be well organised. The composition should have an introductory paragraph where you briefly set the scene (name, time/place you met/saw him or her, etc.), a main body consisting of two or more paragraphs describing physical appearance, personality characteristics and hobbies/interests/everyday activities and a final paragraph which summarises your feelings about the person described. Each paragraph starts a new topic. Paragraphs should be well developed and linked together with a variety of linking words.

Points to remember

- When describing physical appearance you should give details in the following order: height/build/age, facial features, hair, clothes moving from the most general adjectives to the most specific ones, e.g. Ann is a tall, thin woman. She has got a long face, blue eyes and an upturned nose. She wears her long blond hair loose. She is often casually dressed in a T-shirt and jeans.
- When describing character and behaviour, support your description with examples, e.g. Tom is very reserved. He never talks about his feelings. If you want to describe negative qualities it is advisable to use mild language, e.g. “He can be aggressive at times” is better than saying “He is aggressive”. We can find descriptions of people in letters, articles, witness statements, novels, etc.

Introduction

Paragraph 1

set the scene (name of the person time/place you met/saw him/her)

Main Body

Paragraph 2

physical appearance

Paragraph 3

personality characteristics

Paragraph 4

activities he/she takes part in: hobbies, interests

Conclusion

Paragraph 5

comments/feelings about the person

- Make your composition more interesting by using a wide range of adjectives (fabulous, superb, etc.) instead of a limited one (good, big, nice, etc.).
 - Be careful with the use of tenses. You can use present tenses when you describe someone in the present, and past tenses when you describe someone related to the past. e.g. someone you had met before you moved to this city, someone who is no longer alive, etc.
 - Avoid writing simple short sentences. More complex sentences joined with connectors make your composition more eye-catching. e.g. Instead of saying: John is thin. He has large blue eyes. He has long curly hair. He has full lips. He wears his hair loose, you can say: John is a tall thin man with large blue eyes and full lips. He wears his long curly hair loose.
- Note: When you describe someone for official purposes e.g. a police report, you emphasise the physical features and try to give the most accurate description possible. When you write a letter to recommend someone for a job you write only about his/her personality characteristics.

3 Read the following composition and put it in the right order. Then answer the following questions.

- A Julie is quite short and slim. She's got a round face with beautiful almond-shaped eyes and a slightly upturned nose. She often wears her shoulder-length fair hair in a pony-tail. Julie prefers comfortable clothes and can often be seen wearing a blue jumper, a pair of denim jeans and trainers.
- B Over the years, I have shared many good times with Julie. She has been one of my best and most trusted friends. I feel fortunate to have met her.
- C I've known Julie since my first day at school, when we were only five. I can remember her smiling face as the teacher, Mrs Snow, asked me to share the same desk with her.
- D One of Julie's favourite hobbies is cycling. She also enjoys reading people's horoscopes and trying to predict what will happen in the future. Julie likes going to the cinema and is especially fond of adventure films.
- E Although Julie is quite reserved, she is a kind person who will listen to your problems and try to help you. She is also quite active and enjoys outdoor activities.

- Which paragraphs make up the main body of the composition?
- Which paragraph sets the scene? How does it begin?
- Which paragraph summarises the writer's feelings towards the person he describes?
- Are Julie's personality characteristics justified?
- Are there complex sentences? Underline the connectors.
- The writer uses present tenses. Why does he do this?
- Has the writer given Julie's physical and personality characteristics equal importance?

4 Read the list of adjectives and identify which are used to describe physical appearance and which describe character. Then, read the text and fill in the blanks. Finally, give the paragraph plan. Where could this piece of writing be found?

intelligent, heart-shaped, tall, generous, sociable, successful, sparkling, straight, slim, shoulder-length

Use narrative techniques in your descriptive composition to gain your reader's interest. For example, while giving the name of the person described and the time and place you met or saw him/her you can set the scene by narrating the incident. Instead of saying: "I met John at Jane's birthday party last Saturday. He was tall, skinny with spiky hair," you can say "As soon as I entered Jane's flat last Saturday I noticed a strange mixture of people gathered to celebrate her birthday. It wasn't long before my eyes fell on a tall, skinny man with spiky hair. His name was John."

- 5 The following models describe a relative of yours who is no longer alive. Read the compositions and compare and contrast them. Which is purely descriptive? Which involves narrative techniques? Underline the narrative parts. Finally, give the paragraph plan.

MODEL A

I'll never forget the first time I met my grandmother. She had been living in Australia, but decided to move back to England.

When she arrived I stood nervously pulling on my father's coat, half hiding behind him. It had never occurred to me that this sweet, plump, elderly lady would be so excited to meet me. She was shorter than I had imagined and had a round face, short, greyish curly hair and friendly green eyes. Her rosy cheeks gave her wrinkled face a childlike appearance, and when she smiled at me I couldn't resist giving her a big hug, ignoring her perfectly-ironed dress.

It wasn't long before I realised how generous and understanding she was. She always had something for everyone and was there to listen to us without intruding into our lives.

She was determined to buy a little house of her own so she could find the peace and quiet that she needed to write her poetry. She had so many hobbies and interests that there was always something to talk about.

That meeting with my grandmother led to a close relationship which lasted until her death two years ago. She was a fantastic lady and I shall always be grateful for the comfort, advice and support she gave me whenever I needed it.

MODEL B

My grandmother died two years ago, but I still have fond memories of the time we spent together when she was alive.

She used to live in Australia but she moved back to England to live in a little house. She was a sweet, plump lady and she was rather short. She had a round face, short greyish curly hair and friendly green eyes. Her rosy cheeks gave her wrinkled face a childlike appearance. She always used to wear perfectly-ironed dresses.

My grandmother was a very generous and understanding woman. She always had something for everyone and listened to us without intruding into our lives.

My grandmother's main interest was writing and she managed to publish several books of poetry while she was alive. As well as that, she had many other hobbies and interests and there was always something to talk about.

My grandmother was a fantastic woman who gave me comfort, advice and support whenever I needed it. I shall never forget her.
